Travel, Typesetting, & Training

In February the Lord opened the door for me to return to Bangkok for a month. Bro. Tom asked if most of the work I was doing could be put on hold or worked on from Bangkok. There was a young man coming from a neighboring country to work on re-typesetting the Burmese Scriptures. If he got his visa and was able to come, I would be needed to help with the typesetting. It was good to be back in Thailand, and great to help with the Burmese Bible.

We had intended for me to extend my stay if the project was not finished, but I found my ticket was not extendable as I had been told. It was disappointing to have to leave before the project was ready to go to press, but I was able to spend a few days giving Noah more advanced training in PageMaker. By the time I left, he was able to finish the project on his own. As wonderful as it would have been for me to stay to the finish, it was so much greater to see Noah trained to complete it himself. Now he can typeset other projects as well.

There have been some starts and stops with the French John Romans. The copy of the text I originally obtained had not been proofed, so I was proofing it (word-by-word, character-by-character). It is quite time-consuming to proof something like this because you must be so careful to look at each character. After proofing a few chapters, we found someone with a proofed, electronic copy of the text. Praise the Lord! This text will be available to us in May, so I will start typesetting it then.

Web Site Work

In my last letter, I mentioned an evangelistic web site that I was working on. I am sorry to report that I am not much closer to being finished with it than I was three months ago. Never have I had so much trouble getting a web site created.

I now know what direction (regarding design) I want to take the web site, but it is completely beyond my skills. This site requires a real artist, not someone who can manipulate graphics and colors to create something new. I am not an artist. I wish God had given me this talent, but He did not. Someone recently challenged me to study art, letting me know you do not have to have a great natural talent to learn how to create something. I will never be a great artist, but maybe I can learn the basics to help illustrate some of these projects I struggle with so much. I ask you to pray with me about an artist for this web site, and about whether or not I should pursue art. I have no idea where to start with art lessons.

For now, there is not time for me to learn art before completing this project. Please pray God would provide an artist to help get this project finished quickly to reach lost people. Most of us have no idea how many people cruise the internet, looking for answers to life's questions or looking for something to fill that hole in their lives.

In addition to this web site, I have been updating my church's web site and adding to/updating the Gaudet Family site. This web work takes a lot of time, but we are finding what a powerful tool it is. Our church has had many visitors find us through our web site. Some are passing through and need a place to worship while away from home and some are living in Amarillo looking for a church. Many people have come to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ after finding our church online. It is important that we use every tool at our disposal for reaching souls for Christ.

This and That

Our God is very faithful. There have been some added expenses lately, but God has provided for each one of them. Funds were given to cover the expenses of my trip to Bangkok by my home church and others who gave towards re-typesetting the Burmese Bible.

Also, I knew I was going to have to get some work done on my car, have some dental work done, and upgrade one piece of software. Just in time, the Lord gave me a paying design job that I could do in the evenings. This job helped cover these expenses and I was able to get the dental work done in Thailand, where it was less expensive. God is good all the time.

Prayer Requests

- An artist for the evangelistic web site
- Direction regarding art lessons
- That I would be able to use my time more efficiently

Because all I am is His,
